BLACK BOX DENTISTRY

Aviation human factors for dentists

Join us for our innovative peer-to-peer course

This one-day informative, interactive and engaging course has been designed for dentists, by dentists and aviation professionals, to showcase how lessons learnt from aviation can be applied within a dental context to improve patient safety and reduce human error.

You will be taught best practice models that pilots have been successfully applying for decades to reduce stress, manage high work load and problem solve under pressured conditions to produce favourable outcomes.

Course location: London Heathrow
